Health Offerings, Inc. would like you to know that there is no guarantee of achieving a specific result in treatment. However, Health Offerings, Inc. will do everything possible to ensure a favorable outcome to assist you in achieving your health goal(s). Each individual responds differently to acupuncture care. Any claims and testimonials on this site are not to be interpreted as the average experience. All testimonials are unique to that individual. Your progress towards desired treatment outcome is based on numerous factors including, your personal commitment to healthy lifestyle changes and practices, compliance with dietary suggestions and/or herbal and nutritional recommendations (should you wish to take herbs and/or supplements), and adherence to your treatment plan schedule. By commencing (or terminating treatment), you agree that Health Offerings, Inc. is not responsible for the success or failure of the treatment outcome.
